Dear Mr. Wood;

The employees at Whitley are excited and pleased that you chose to bring your printing business to Austin and Whitley. Our entire team appreciates those companies who chose to support our great community and shop locally. The impact of this kind of social responsibility is invaluable to supporting and helping our community to thrive. This is something we take seriously at Whitley as we strive to operate as a socially and environmentally responsible company.

Also I wanted to thank you for providing such a valuable service to our community. Several of our employees have participated in one of your screening events including myself. As a member of the community I personally want to say thank you as your service helped me identify an area of my personal health that needed attention that I possibly would have never identified until perhaps too late. As an employer I think yours is an invaluable service, recognizing that a proactive approach to one's health can save enormous medical insurance expenses not to mention lost time at work.

We wish you well in your business venture and welcome you to the community. Most importantly we sincerely thank for your support as a valued client.

Respectfully,

Kevin B. Cassis
CEO/President
